

Hospitality & Events — Full Proposal Template

Structure

01 — Why We Are Reaching Out

[Brand Name] delivers an experience that clearly positions it in the premium segment. After our conversation, it became clear that the brand identity and digital presence need to evolve to match the quality of the physical experience.

02 — What We Observed

- Brand identity — logo, typography, colour, and visual language across all touchpoints
- Environmental branding — signage, menu design, in-room materials, stationery, uniforms
- Website and booking — user experience, photography, booking flow, mobile experience
- Photography — quality, styling, whether images capture the atmosphere
- Social media — content quality, consistency, storytelling, engagement
- Marketing materials — event promotions, email campaigns, print collateral
- Competitive positioning — brand comparison with 3-5 competitors in the same tier

03 — The Business Implication

In hospitality, the decision to book happens online. When the website and brand do not convey the quality of the experience, the business relies disproportionately on word-of-mouth and reviews to overcome the perception gap. A brand system that matches the physical experience reduces that reliance, increases direct bookings, and strengthens pricing power.

04 — Our Hypothesis

The experience is the product. The gap is between the experience and how it presents to someone who has not yet visited. The opportunity is to build a brand that serves as a preview of the experience.
