INTRODUCTION

ABOUT THESE GUIDELINES

This document sets out how VXIII looks, speaks and presents itself. It applies to the product, the packaging, print, the website and every message that carries the name.

The identity is built on one idea. A person is worth what they keep of themselves, and a frame should help them keep it. Every decision here follows from that, and the rules are few so that they are kept.

Use the files supplied with this document and do not redraw the wordmark. Where a case is not covered, choose the quieter option.

PART	COVERS
Foundation and voice	The name, the idea and how VXIII speaks.
Logo and colour	The wordmark, the V mark, the palette and the finishes.
Type and layout	The two typefaces, hierarchy, grid and graphic elements.
Image and application	Photography, the range, packaging and stationery.

02

BRAND FOUNDATION

THE NAME

VXIII is one word and one reference, Matthew 5:13. It is written and read together, with no space and no mark between the letters.

The V stands for the chapter and the XIII for the verse, so a single word carries the whole citation.

The verse opens with the line "Ye are the salt of the earth" (KJV) and goes on to say that salt which loses its savour has nothing left to give. The next verse, 5:14, says "Ye are the light of the world." VXIII sits one verse before the light. The wearer is the salt, and the frame is what they put on before they walk out into it.

KEEP YOUR SAVOUR

The brand idea is one line. It is the tagline, the test for every piece of copy and the reason the product is made of titanium.

Savour

Keeping what is yours. The tone of every line of copy.

Crystal

Hard edges, clean cuts and a cube as the base form. It shapes the details of the frame and the packaging.

Covenant

A promise made in writing. It governs the warranty, the returns and the care text.

Quiet

Marks placed where only the wearer sees them. The engraving sits inside the temple.

Purpose

To make sunglasses worth keeping, for people who intend to be worth their salt.

Positioning

Titanium sunglasses in two models, the Navigator and the Butterfly, made with the restraint of a single fine line and named for the salts of the earth.

WHY SALT, AND WHY THE SUN

Made by the sun

Sea water is left in shallow pans under hard light until only crystal remains. The thing we build to face is the thing that makes salt.

It preserves

A covenant was sealed with salt because nothing else would last as long. A frame bought once and kept for years follows the same logic.

It works quietly

Nobody sees salt in a meal, and people notice only when it is missing. VXIII is worn the same way.

It has a measure

Salary comes from the salt that Roman soldiers were paid, and "worth your salt" still means someone has earned their place.

MANIFESTO

You are the salt of the earth.
You were not made to be loud. You were made to change the thing you are added to.
The sun made the first crystal and it will test you too. Meet it with something that holds its edge.
Keep your savour.

AUDIENCE AND PERSONALITY

Who we speak to

People who buy few things and keep them. They value a good material, a clean line and a quiet detail, and they do not need an object to announce them.

They arrive through a friend, through the verse, or through the frame itself. Most already own sunglasses that they have lost or outgrown and want one pair that stays. We write for them as equals, with the plain confidence of someone who has nothing to prove.

What they expect

A product that is exactly as described, a promise that is written down, and a brand that does not raise its voice.

TRAIT	SOUNDS LIKE	AVOIDS
Assured	Short sentences that state a fact and stop.	Hedging, superlatives and apology.
Plain	Ordinary words, used exactly.	Jargon, slang and borrowed luxury vocabulary.
Patient	Room around each statement.	Urgency, countdowns and pressure.
Exact	Numbers, materials and names given in full.	Vague claims about quality.

03

VOICE

HOW VXIII SPEAKS

Plain, declarative and unhurried. One idea in each sentence.

PRINCIPLE	IN PRACTICE
Scripture is rare	It appears at the name, in the manifesto and in the engraving. Everywhere else the voice is modern and direct.
Salt words stay natural	They are ordinary vocabulary and are never forced into a pun.
Nothing shouts	No exclamation marks, no emoji and no discount language.
Captions are capitals	Specification lines are short and set in small capitals with wide tracking.

WE SAY	WE DO NOT SAY
Savour	Style, vibe
Crystal, cut, edge	Sleek, modern
Keep	Own, buy
Season	Collection, drop
Covenant	Terms and conditions
Grain	Detail
Pan	Workshop, studio

LINES WE USE

Keep your savour.

TAGLINE

Worth your salt.

PRODUCT LINE

Boilerplate, fifty words

VXIII takes its name from Matthew 5:13, "Ye are the salt of the earth." The brand makes titanium sunglasses in two models, the Navigator and the Butterfly, each drawn in one fine line and finished in the colours of salt. Every frame is engraved inside the temple. Keep your savour.

Short description, twenty words

Titanium sunglasses in two models, named for the salts of the earth and engraved with the verse.

THE VOICE IN USE

Product description, 01 Fleur

The Navigator in its first finish. A straight top bar over a rounded lower lens, drawn in one fine line of polished silver titanium. The clear grey lens keeps every colour true. Engraved inside the temple with the verse.

Care text

Titanium does not rust and it keeps its shape. Wipe the lenses with the cloth supplied and rinse the frame in clean water when it meets salt. Keep the frame in its case.

Social caption

02 Rose. Rose rock salt, coloured by the water that made it. Butterfly, titanium, soft amber lens.

Email subject lines

LOGO

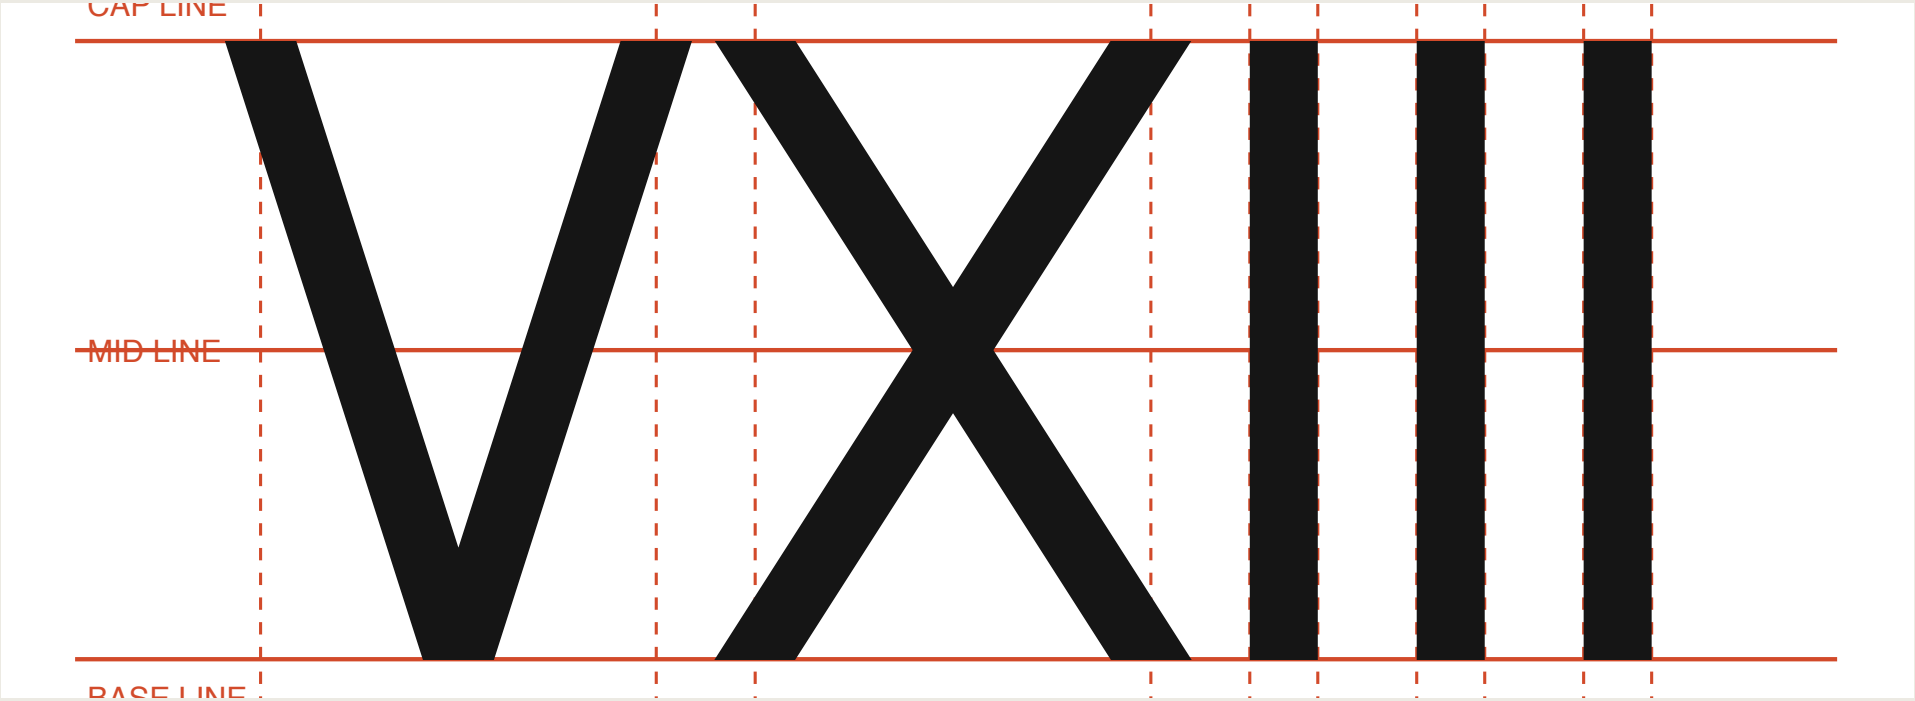

THE WORDMARK

The wordmark is the primary signature. It is drawn as one line of medium weight, with flat cuts at the cap and base lines, in the same restraint as the titanium wire of the frame.

It is supplied as vector artwork in Lava, in Fleur and on each approved ground. Use these files and do not retype it in a font.

The wordmark takes one colour and never a gradient. Rose, Ambre and Gold are not used behind it, except as the single gold wordmark on Deep Brine packaging.

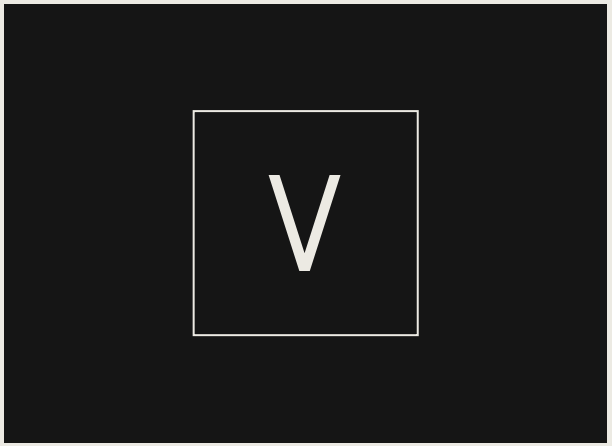

THE V MARK AND THE CUBE

V MARK
The first letter of the wordmark, used where the full word cannot fit, such as an avatar, a favicon or a clasp.

THE CUBE
The base form of the brand, drawn in a single line. It marks the hinge block, packaging corners and print details.

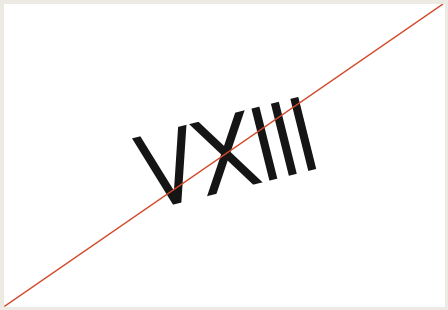

SQUARE FORMAT
The V mark centred in a square for the temple tip and seals.

The V mark never replaces the wordmark on the first page of a document or on the front of the packaging.

Construction

Cap height 100 units, stroke 11 units, a gap of 14 units between letters. Every terminal is cut flat to the cap and base lines and round forms are drawn as even arcs.

Use

Headlines, section numbers, product names, page numbers and the engraving. It is set at a tracking of 7 percent and never below 8 points.

Character set

Capitals and numerals with a short set of marks. Lower case letters set in the face draw as capitals, as the wordmark does. The font file is supplied with the guidelines.

SETTING TYPE

Do	Avoid
Set text flush left and leave the right edge ragged.	Justified text, centred paragraphs and italics.
Use VXIII Display for headlines and numerals and Hanken Grotesk for everything that is read in a line.	Setting body text in VXIII Display.
Set captions in small capitals with 14 percent tracking.	Adding weights to VXIII Display, which is drawn in one weight.
Keep a measure of 45 to 75 characters for body text.	Setting the wordmark in any font, including VXIII Display, since the wordmark has its own spacing.
Leave generous room around a headline.	Type set over a pattern without a clear field.

07

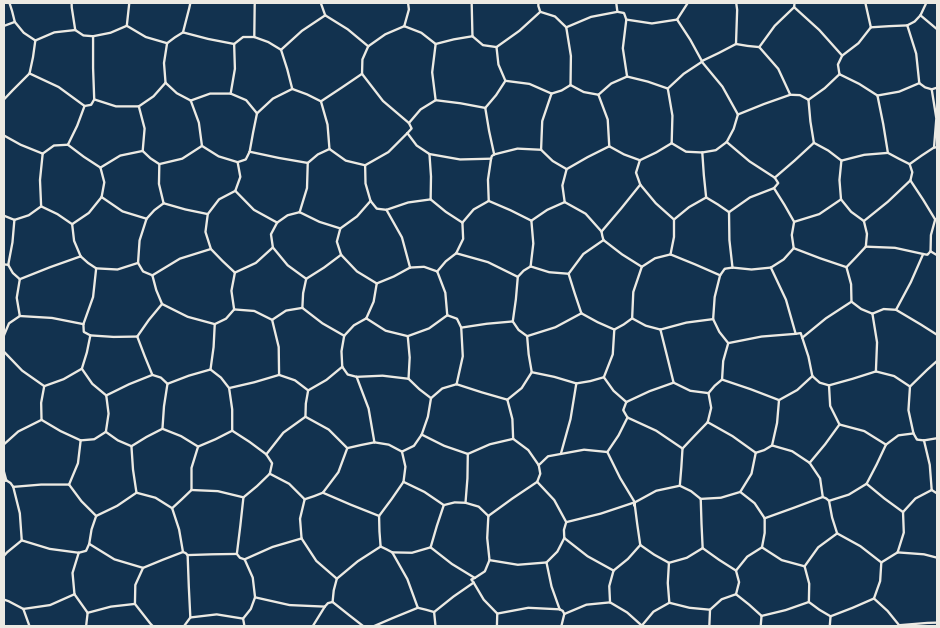

LAYOUT AND GRAPHIC ELEMENTS

GRID AND MARGINS

Pages sit on a twelve column grid with generous margins and one focal point. Text is flush left. The wordmark appears once on a surface.

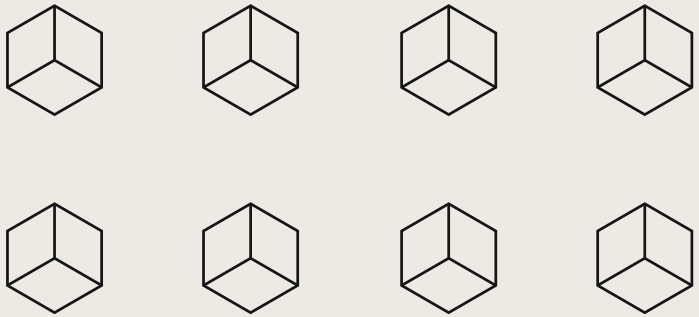

ITEM	VALUE
Columns	12, gutter 5 mm on A4
Margins	18 mm outer, 16 mm top, 18 mm bottom
Baseline	4 mm
Alignment	Flush left, ragged right

SALT CRACK PATTERN AND CUBE

THE SALT CRACK PATTERN

The cracked crust of a salt flat as it dries, drawn in single fine lines. It is the ground of the box cover and the pouch, debossed tone on tone, and the gold wordmark sits directly on it.

THE CUBE

A single line cube marks sections, bullets and the corners of the box. Its lattice sits behind the text of the notes at a very low opacity. Always drawn at one stroke weight.

THE ENGRAVED MARK

POSITION
Inner face of each temple, where only the wearer sees it.

CONTENT
VXIII in the wordmark, then the line from the verse in capitals.

DEPTH
0.14 mm, in titanium, with the mark at a cap height of 2 mm.

NOTE ONE, CERTIFICATE OF AUTHENTICITY

To you who opened this,

VXIII is a verse, Matthew 5:13, and the verse says you are the salt of the earth. Salt keeps what it touches and gives its savour quietly. I made this frame in that spirit, in titanium, with one fine line and the verse engraved where only you will see it.

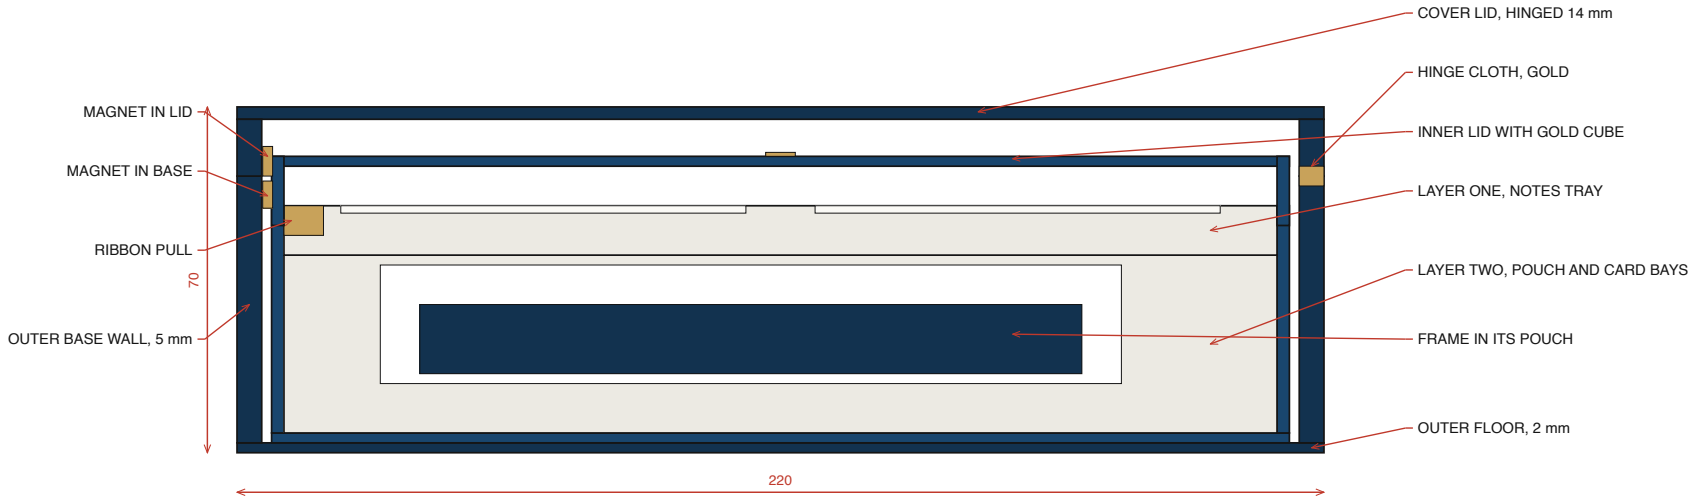

Wear it in the hardest light and keep it for years. Keep your savour.
