INTRODUCTION

ABOUT THESE GUIDELINES

This document sets out how VXIII looks, speaks and presents itself. It applies to the product, the packaging, print, the website and every message that carries the name.

The identity rests on one idea. A person is worth what they keep of themselves, and a frame should help them keep it. The rules are few so that they are kept.

Version 2.0 follows the approved brand story, research, mood board, constructions and colourways. The logo is unchanged. The two models are now Halite and Fleur, and the brand palette has new names so that no brand colour shares a name with a product.

PART	COVERS
Foundation and voice	The name, the idea, the salt forms and how VXIII speaks.
Logo and colour	The wordmark, the V mark, the brand palette and the product colours.
Type and layout	The two typefaces, hierarchy, grid and graphic elements.
Image and application	Photography, the range, packaging and stationery.

02

BRAND FOUNDATION

THE NAME

VXIII is one word and one reference, Matthew 5:13. It is written and read together, with no space and no mark between the letters.

The V stands for the chapter and the XIII for the verse, so a single word carries the whole citation.

The verse opens with "Ye are the salt of the earth" (KJV) and asks what happens when salt has lost its savour. The next verse, 5:14, reads "Ye are the light of the world." VXIII sits one verse before the light. The wearer is the salt, and the frame is what they wear into the light.

KEEP YOUR SAVOUR

The brand idea is one line. It is the tagline and the test for every piece of copy.

Savour

Keeping what is yours. The tone of every line of copy.

Crystal

Every form taken from the way salt is made. It shapes each frame and the packaging.

Covenant

A promise made in writing. It governs the warranty, the returns and the care text.

Quiet

Marks placed where only the wearer sees them. The engraving sits inside the temple.

Purpose

To make sunglasses worth keeping, for people who intend to be worth their salt.

Positioning

Sunglasses in titanium and acetate, in two models named for salt, Halite for men and Fleur for women, with every line taken from the way salt is formed.

WHY SALT, AND WHY THE SUN

Made by the sun

Sea water is let into shallow pans and left under hard light until only crystal remains. The light that makes salt is the light a pair of sunglasses is built to face.

It preserves

Scripture calls a lasting promise "a covenant of salt" (Numbers 18:19). A frame bought once and kept for years follows the same logic.

Noticed by its absence

Nobody sees salt in a meal, and people notice it only when it is missing. VXIII is worn the same way.

It has a measure

The Latin salarium, from which salary comes, is built on sal, the Latin for salt. "Worth your salt" still means someone has earned their place.

MANIFESTO

You are the salt of the earth.
A little salt changes everything it is added to.
The sun that dries the pans is the light you walk into. Meet it with something that holds its edge.
Keep your savour.

AUDIENCE AND PERSONALITY

Who we speak to

People who buy few things and keep them. They value a good material and a clean line, and they choose an object for how it is made before they look at the name on it.

They come to us through a friend or through the verse itself. Most already own sunglasses they have lost or outgrown, and they want one pair that stays. We write to them as equals, with the plain confidence of someone who has nothing to prove.

TRAIT	SOUNDS LIKE	AVOIDS
Assured	Short sentences that state a fact and stop.	Hedging, superlatives and apology.
Plain	Ordinary words, used exactly.	Jargon, slang and borrowed luxury vocabulary.
Patient	Room around each statement.	Urgency, countdowns and pressure.
Exact	Numbers, materials and names given in full.	Vague claims about quality.

WHAT THE FRAMES TAKE FROM SALT

Every shape, detail and colour must trace back to a real form of salt. A design that cannot name its source does not go forward.

This rule applies to the product, the packaging and the graphic elements in this document. The mood board shows each form in photographs.

SALT FORM	WHERE IT APPEARS
The halite cube	Square proportion, true edges, cube mounts and tips
The hopper crystal	The stepped square on Fleur
The evaporation line	The polished salt line round the Halite lens
The pan	Rectangular lenses and level top lines
The terrace	Stepped details
The crust	The salt crack pattern on the packaging
The clear crystal	Clear acetate

03

VOICE

HOW VXIII SPEAKS

Plain, declarative and unhurried. One idea in each sentence.

PRINCIPLE	IN PRACTICE
Scripture is rare	It appears at the name, in the manifesto and in the engraving. Everywhere else the voice is plain and direct.
Salt words stay natural	They are ordinary vocabulary and are never forced into a pun.
Nothing shouts	No exclamation marks and no discount language. No emoji.
Captions are capitals	Specification lines are short and set in small capitals with wide tracking.

WE SAY	WE AVOID
Savour	Style, vibe
Crystal, cut, edge	Sleek, modern
Keep	Own, buy
Season	Collection, drop
Covenant	Terms and conditions
Grain	Detail
Pan	Workshop, studio

LINES WE USE

Keep your savour.

TAGLINE

Worth your salt.

PRODUCT LINE

Made where the sun makes salt.

ORIGIN LINE

One verse before the light.

CAMPAIGN LINE

You are the salt of the earth. Put it on.

Origin	A reference to Matthew 5:13, written as one word.

Boilerplate, fifty words

VXIII takes its name from Matthew 5:13, "Ye are the salt of the earth." The brand makes sunglasses in two models, Halite for men and Fleur for women, each drawn from the way salt is formed and built on titanium. Every frame is engraved inside the temple. Keep your savour.

Short description

Sunglasses in two models, Halite and Fleur, built on titanium, drawn from salt and engraved with the verse.

THE VOICE IN USE

Product description, Halite Lava

Halite in matte black titanium. A rimless frame whose lens edge is bevelled and polished, so a fine white line runs round each lens like salt at the edge of a pan. Grey polarised lens. Engraved inside the temple with the verse.

Care text

Titanium does not rust and it keeps its shape. Wipe the lenses with the cloth supplied and rinse the frame in clean water when it meets salt. Keep the frame in its case.

Social caption

Fleur Retba. The salt of Lake Retba, where algae turn the water pink. Champagne titanium, rose gradient lens.

Email subject lines

Fleur is here.

LOGO

THE WORDMARK

The wordmark is the primary signature. It is a solid, heavy drawing, cut square at the cap and base lines, with a V that narrows toward its point and an X that crosses at the centre. It reads as one piece, the way the verse reads as one reference.

It is supplied as vector artwork in Ink, in Salt White and on each approved ground. Use these files and do not retype it in a font.

CONSTRUCTION

STEM
Each I is 30.6 units wide on a cap height of 100

LETTERS
V is 89.4 units wide and X is 94.3

SPACING
The I letters are 6.9 units apart. V to X is 4.9 and X to I is 8.5

CUT
Every top and base edge is flat and square to the cap lines

CLEAR SPACE AND MINIMUM SIZE

CLEAR SPACE
Keep a margin equal to half the height of the letters on every side.

THE V MARK AND THE CUBE

V MARK

The first letter of the wordmark, used where the full word cannot fit, such as an avatar, a favicon or a clasp.

THE CUBE

The halite cube drawn in a single line. It marks sections, print marks and the corners of the packaging.

SQUARE FORMAT

The V mark centred in a square for seals and the avatar.

The V mark never replaces the wordmark on the first page of a document or on the front of the packaging.

KEEP YOUR SAVOUR

Drawn for the brand as a single light stroke, with flat cuts at the cap and base lines and capitals only. It sits beside the heavy wordmark as its quiet companion.

Hanken Grotesk

TEXT, CAPTIONS AND SPECIFICATIONS

Keep your savour. Built on titanium and drawn from salt.

A clear, even grotesque with an open, upright shape, used for every line of running text and for captions in small capitals. Weights 300, 400, 500 and 600. It is free for commercial use under the SIL Open Font Licence.

VXIII DISPLAY

Construction

Cap height 100 units, a single stroke of 11 units and a gap of 14 units between letters. Every terminal is cut flat to the cap and base lines, and round forms are drawn as even arcs.

Use

Headlines, section numbers, product names and page numbers. It is set at a tracking of 7 percent and never below 8 points.

Character set

Capitals and numerals with a short set of marks. Lower case letters set in the face draw as capitals. The font file is supplied with the guidelines.

HIERARCHY

LEVEL	SPECIFICATION	EXAMPLE
Display	VXIII Display 36 to 64 pt, tracking 7%	KEEP YOUR SAVOUR
Heading	VXIII Display 18 to 28 pt, tracking 7%	HALITE, THE SALT LINE
Subheading	Hanken Grotesk 600 10 to 12 pt	Fleur Guérande, fleur de sel from the pans of Guérande
Body	Hanken Grotesk 400 9 to 11 pt, leading 160%	Salt is added to something so that the thing becomes more itself.
Caption	Hanken Grotesk 600 6.5 to 8 pt, capitals, tracking 14%	HALITE LAVA · MATTE BLACK TITANIUM · GREY POLARISED LENS

SETTING TYPE

Do

Set text flush left and leave the right edge ragged.

Use VXIII Display for headlines and numerals and Hanken Grotesk for everything that is read in a line.

Set captions in small capitals with 14 percent tracking.

Keep a measure of 45 to 75 characters for body text.

Leave generous room around a headline.

Avoid

Justified text, centred paragraphs and italics.

Setting body text in VXIII Display.

Adding weights to VXIII Display, which is drawn in one weight.

Setting the wordmark in any font. The wordmark is always the supplied drawing.

Type set over a pattern without a clear field.

07

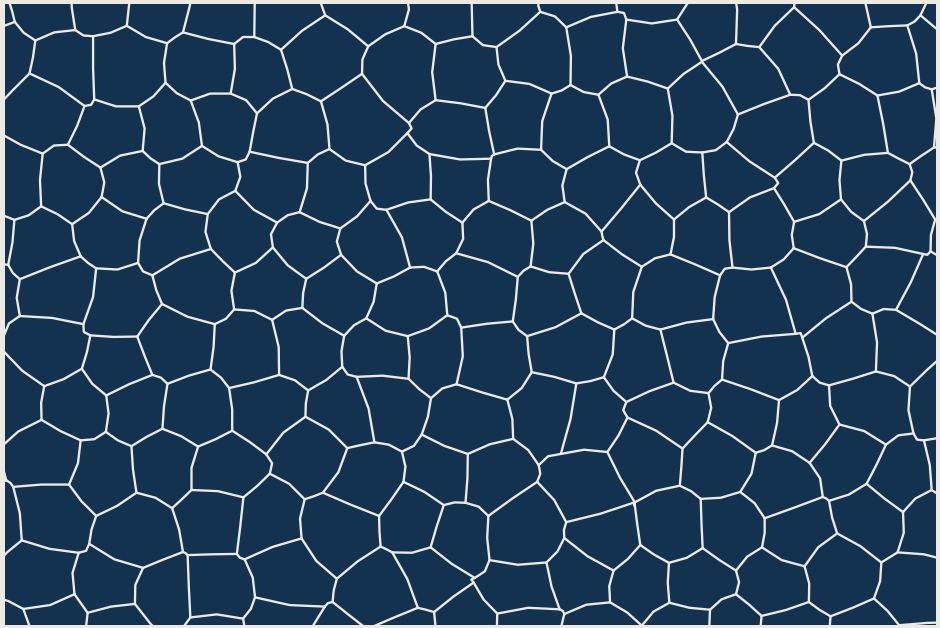

LAYOUT AND GRAPHIC ELEMENTS

GRID AND MARGINS

Pages sit on a twelve column grid with generous margins and one focal point. Text is flush left. The wordmark appears once on a surface.

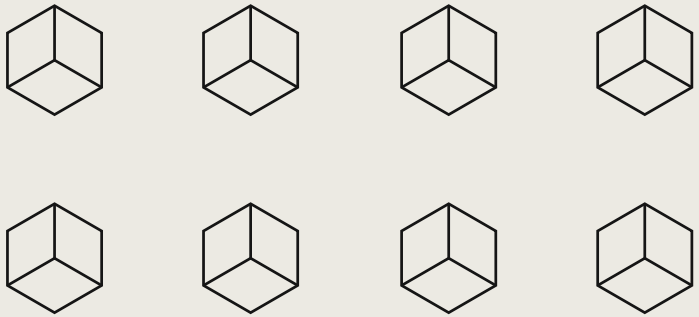

ITEM	VALUE
Columns	12, gutter 5 mm on A4
Margins	18 mm outer, 16 mm top, 18 mm bottom
Baseline	4 mm
Alignment	Flush left, ragged right

SALT CRACK PATTERN AND CUBE

THE SALT CRACK PATTERN

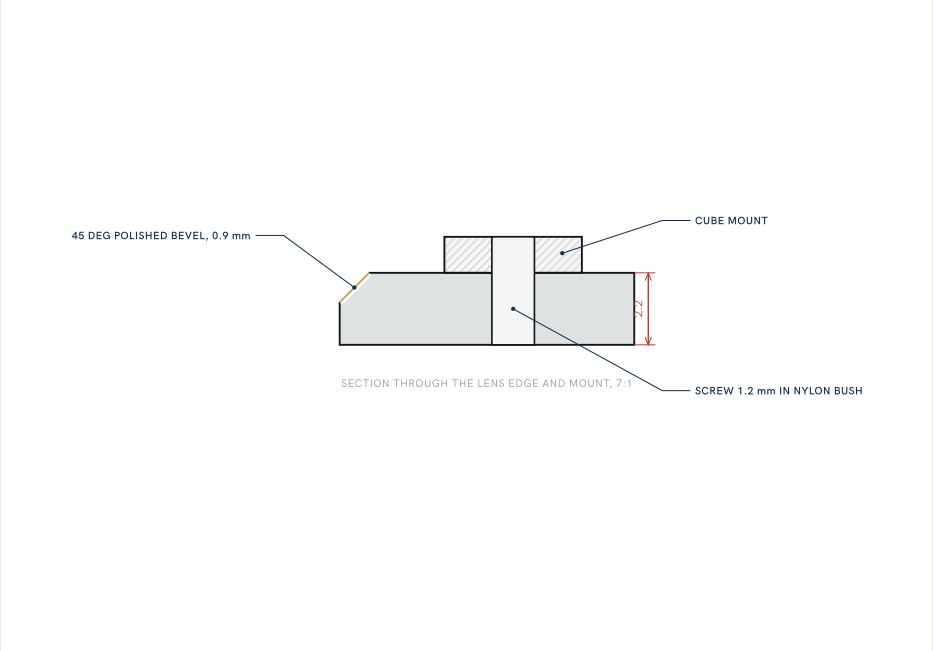

The crust of the Salar de Uyuni as it dries, drawn in single fine lines. It is the ground of the box cover and the case, debossed tone on tone, and the gold wordmark sits directly on it.

THE CUBE

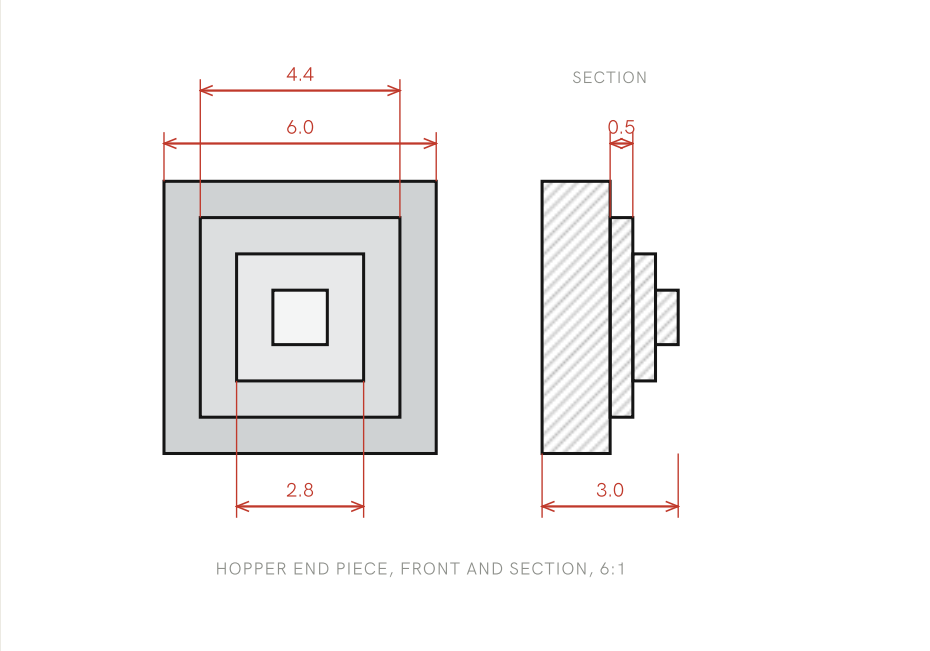

The halite cube in a single line. It marks sections, bullets and the corners of the box, always at one stroke weight.

SIGNATURE DETAILS

HALITE, THE SALT LINE

The lens edge bevelled at 45 degrees and polished, so a white line runs round each lens like salt at the edge of a drying pan.

FLEUR, THE HOPPER SQUARE

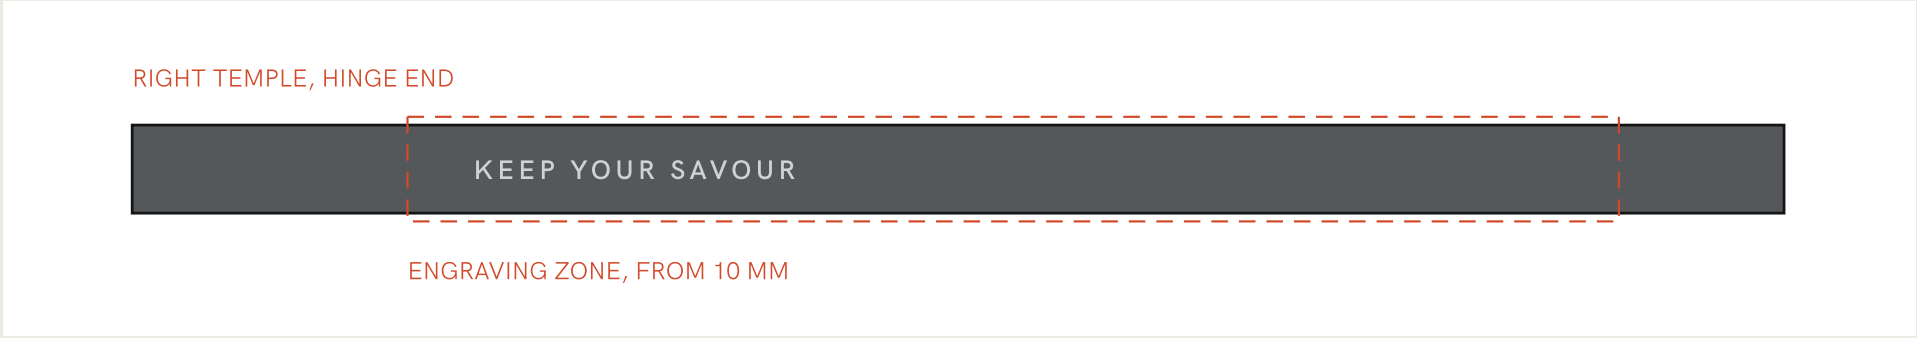

Three squares stepped one inside another, from the hopper crystal of fleur de sel. It sits at the lifted corner of the frame and at the end of the temple.

These two details identify each model without a logo on the front. They may be drawn as single line graphics in Ink or Gold for print, at no less than 6 mm across.

THE ENGRAVED MARK

FIRST AREA, INNER FACE OF THE LEFT TEMPLE. VXIII IN THE WORDMARK, THE FIRST LINE OF THE VERSE, THEN THE SIZE MARK SMALL AND APART.

SECOND AREA, INNER FACE OF THE RIGHT TEMPLE. KEEP YOUR SAVOUR, ALONE.

POSITION
Inner face of each temple, where only the wearer sees it. Drawn at about 3:1.

CONTENT
The reference on the left temple and the tagline on the right, so the two temples read as the verse and its answer.

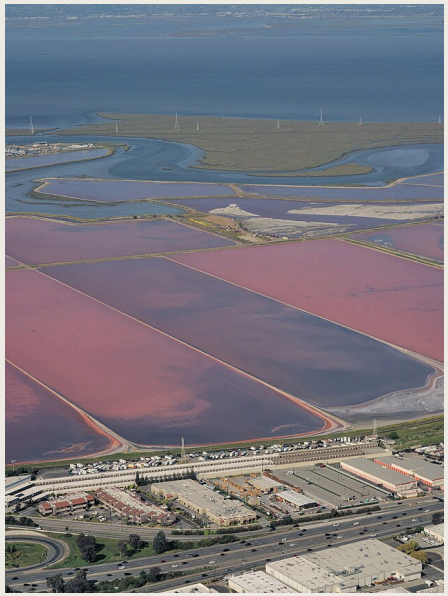

SIZE
Wordmark at a cap height of 2 mm on Halite and 1.8 mm on the narrower Fleur temple. The tagline alone, set a little larger than the verse line.

DEPTH
0.14 mm by laser, through the finish, with no filler, so the cut shows bare titanium.
